STRICKHOUSER CASE IS HEARD IN COURT TODAY

The Adams county court this morning held a hearing on the proposed settlement of the action brought by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strickhouser, Gettysburg R. D., and their son, Franchot, against the Borough of Gettysburg and Paul W. Little, Gettysburg.

The court did not make an immediate decision on suggested settlement for $5,000 but stated it would hand down its decision "later."

Franchot Strickhouser was injured in 1947 when the wheel of the youth's bicycle dropped into an opening between metal plates placed over a small stream as part of the roadbed of West Stevens street. The youngster was thrown from the bicycle against and under Little's truck which was passing the bicycle at the time.

Hear Support Case

Mr. and Mrs. Strickhouser, Franchot and Dr. Roy W. Gifford testified at the hearing. The court then called Franchot to the judge's section and examined the leg injuries received by the youth and also asked Doctor Gifford to explain the nature of the injuries.

Doctor Gifford told the court that the youngster may have additional difficulties with his leg in the future due to the seriousness of its injury.

Hearings were held on petitions by William Shover, Harrisburg, and Paul G. Lupp, Gettysburg, asking reductions in the orders they are under to support their wives and children. Both cases were continued after the hearing of some testimony until June 13.

Ralph W. Hull, Harrisburg, asked a reduction in the $30 a week support order for his wife and three children. Testimony showed that his wife has moved from a home near East Berlin and the part of the order directing Hull to pay the rent, coal and light there in addition to the $30 a week was dropped. In the future he will pay only the weekly sum.

A hearing was being held in the desertion and non-support case brought against Sterlin Roser, Hanover R. D., when court adjourned at noon.

Upper Adams County Women Ask For Cooking School Again In 1950; Many Prizes Given Away

An enthusiastic audience of approximately 600 women attended the closing session of The Gettysburg Times-Upper Adams county cooking school Saturday evening in the Biglerville community auditorium and "almost demanded" another cooking school there next year.

Almost 200 women expressed their desire in writing for a return school next year and when Mrs. Margaret Coverly-Smith, home economics expert in charge of the school, asked for a raise of hands from those wanting a school in 1950, practically every woman in the audience responded favorably. There was no negative expression.

Scores of questions were submitted to Mrs. Coverly-Smith on the art of cooking but the overwhelming number of written expressions were in reference to a school again next year.

Popular Success

The success of the school and its popularity was clearly indicated by the intense interest of the large audience in the demonstrations by the lecturer and the scores of comments, voluntarily submitted when the women were leaving the auditorium.

It was the first cooking school ever held in Upper Adams county and it was presented as a public service by The Gettysburg Times and 28 participating merchants and manufacturers of that area.

First Post-War Exposition Of Local Furniture Opens Today; New Creations Are Attractive

The first post-war furniture show of the Gettysburg Furniture factories opened today in the spacious exposition rooms of the companies on York street. It will continue through the week, day and night, with a public showing Friday evening. This is the first local furniture display since 1942 when the emergencies of war caused a cessation of the shows here, M. C. Jones, general manager of the companies, said.

This year's exposition is considered the largest and most colorful ever held here. Every piece of furniture is new and they are the most attractive designs and patterns fashioned in the local plants.

The day and evening exposition is restricted to buyers, with the exception of Friday evening, when the public is invited to inspect the furniture created and manufactured in Gettysburg.

There are three special groupings of bedroom and dining room suites, the Rittenhouse, Sylvania and Manhattan patterns. These are specially made suites for department store clientele. They are of various finishes including regular American walnut, Cordovan Sapella mahogany, combained oak and Australian Guinea wood.

Buyers will also see beautiful patterns of light blonde woods, lined oak and beautifully matched silver gray finish on walnut.

There is also an extensive line of ladies' desks and novelty tables, some with Ebony oak finish. New dresser-roses are also featured, 42 inches high, instead of the conventional 62 inch patterns, with cedar-lined compartments for suits and dresses.

The "Mr. and Mrs. Dresser" is one of the unusually attractive pieces. It is a combination dresser for husband and wife, divided into two sections, but in one piece, with brass trimmings. It is 60 inches wide.

Beautiful Desks

A new line of desks for the living room, bedroom or study is also on display. They are of a distinctly new pattern and design with three large drawers, a spacious top of exclusive finishes.

The display of novelty cocktail and occasional tables is the finest and largest ever shown at a show here. There are square, rectangular and triangle shaped tables. They are so designed that they can be matched or fitted to make different shaped patterns, depending on the size and shape of the room in which they are used.

The dining room suites are particularly attractive in style, pattern and finish.

Buyers are expected to visit the show from Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, greater Manhattan, Indiana, New Jersey and other states along the eastern seaboard.

Little waited almost a week and then told the sheriff he was tired waiting for the Virginia authorities. Saturday he secured an attorney and filed for a writ of habeas corpus. The hearing on the habeas corpus will be held before the Adams county court this afternoon. So far the sheriff has not heard anything further from Virginia except to "hold on to Little" until they get their paper work straightened out down there.

FOUR DEAD, 63 HURT IN PATH OF TEXAS TORNADO

Amarillo, Texas, May 16 (AP)—Relief crews dug today into the debris of a tornado that whipsawed the southern part of this Panhandle capital last night, leaving four or more dead. Hospitals were crowded with 63 or more injured.

Red Cross relief officials flew from St. Louis to the stricken city of 102,000. Ambulances and highway patrol units funneled into Amarillo from a 200-mile radius.

Heavy rains and hail, up to the size of a man's fist, drenched and pounded the ruins hampering relief work. South Amarillo, dotted largely with new homes of veterans, bore the brunt of the vicious cone of wild winds, which destroyed or damaged up to 50 houses.

Confusion prevailed. The stricken area of seven blocks was thronged with curious sightseers, who slowed authorities in their search for casualties.

Complete Figures Unavailable
An estimate of the complete toll of the tornado awaited the coming of daylight. Darkness shrouded the area, save for the eerie lights of cars, ambulances and trucks and lights flickering in the hands of rescue workers.

The four dead were identified as: Mrs. Lois Martin, 30; Eva McPherson, 56; George McPherson, 67; and Mrs. Charles Maserang, age unknown.

Cars by the hundred massed at the edge of the storm's handiwork. One person on the edge of the throng was heard to cry:

"Let me in there. I have a home in there."

He will bring messages at the hillside vesper services on Friday and Saturday evenings and take part in a panel discussion on Saturday afternoon.

Build New Lodge
It is the desire of the alumni to make this a record-breaking week-end so far as attendance is concerned, and they are inviting all interested persons to be present and share in the activities.

Also included on the agenda for the meeting was a report of a new faculty building, the LaVene Grove Lodge, which is being erected under alumni sponsorship. The lodge is expected to be ready for occupancy for the current camping season.

Another alumni project soon to be completed is the publishing of a Nawakwa song book which will be off the press June 15 and available to campers and others this summer.

CAPOT WINNER OF PREAKNESS

Baltimore, May 16 (AP)—The 3-year-old racing spoils are split today and even the Belmont, last gem in the triple crown, may not decide which colt will pick up the 1949 championship marbles.

Besides the two different winners in the Derby and Preakness there are at least a couple of other colts which might have something to say about the New York classic on June 11. Saturday's Preakness closed the Pimlico meeting and most of the starters have headed for other tracks.

Ivan Parke, trainer of Olympia, seems to have summed up the wide open status among the turf sophomores when he predicted "they'll go on beating each other."

That was after Calumet's Ponder won the Derby in which Olympia was favored and wound up sixth. Ponder got the same treatment in Saturday's Preakness, going off the favorite and finishing fifth while Greentree's Capot took the honors.

Olympia is likely to return to the struggle in the Belmont, Parke said.

AMERICAN LOOP TEAMS IN HOT RACE

By JOE REICHLER
False alarm! Chalk up another error for the experts who predicted a two-team race between Boston and Cleveland for the American League pennant.

The prognosticators failed to take into consideration the over-all improvement of the so-called weaker clubs, particularly the Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators.

First the Nats made the experts squirm by running up a winning streak of nine straight. No sooner had the Senators cooled off than the Chicks began to sizzle. And the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns have shown signs of emerging from their coma.

Indians Lose Two
With the New York Yankees grabbing an early lead, and Detroit and Philadelphia playing better than .500 ball, it now looks like a dog-eat-dog battle right down to the wire. Only four and a half games separate the first place Yankees and seventh place Red Sox.

The White Sox turned in the eye-lifter of the season yesterday when they shut out the Indians twice at Chicago, 10-0 and 2-0.

Bill Wight, the ex-Yankee south-paw, pitched a five-hitter in the opener for his fourth straight victory. He still hasn't tasted defeat. Allen Gettler, who once pitched for the Indians as well as the Yankees, doled out four hits in the nightcap. The double success boosted them into third place, two and a half games from the top.

A's Beat Yanks Twice
Coming through with a spectacular seven-run outburst in what proved to be the final inning of the second game, the Athletics overcame a 6-0 deficit to nip the Yankees 7-6 for a sweep of their doubleheader. The A's also fought an uphill battle in the opener, winning 8-7 in 11 innings after trailing 7-3 going into the seventh.

Jughandle Joe Dobson posted his first victory of the season limiting the Senators to four hits as the Red Sox shut out the Nats 3-0. Dom DiMaggio paced an eight-hit attack on loser Sid Hudson and Dick Weller with a double and two singles.

The lowly Browns divided a double header with Detroit to make it five victories in their last seven games. After the Tigers had won the opener, 9-3, the Browns came back to combine 11 hits and 14 bases on balls to win the second game, 12-4.

Boston's Braves and the New York Giants continued in their first place National League deadlock for the third straight day. The Braves made it three in a row over the Brooklyn Dodgers with a 4-0 shut-out triumph, while the Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-3, for a sweep of their three-game set.

Vern Bickford pitched the shutout for Boston, permitting the fourth place Dodgers only four singles. The Giants collected only eight hits (no homers) but took advantage of seven bases on balls to hang the second defeat upon young Curt Simmons.

Chuck Diering's two-out double in the ninth drove in the tying run, and Red Schoendienst's single sent in the winning run as the St. Louis Cardinals came up with two runs to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3.

Cincinnati and Chicago divided a doubleheader, the Reds winning the opener, 6-5, and the Cubs taking the nightcap, 8-5. Johnny Wyrostek, whose ninth inning homer with a man on base had sent the first game into extra innings, singled in Red Stalcup with the winning run in the 10th.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The Post Office: Our new Postmaster, A. D. Buehler, Esq., will enter upon his duties on Thursday. The office is at the Drug and Bookstore of Mr. S. H. Buehler, a few doors west of the Public Square.

Married: On Tuesday evening, by the Rev. R. Gracy, Mr. William Smith, of Berkeley county, Va. (and lately of this county), to Miss Martha C. daughter of Mr. Henry Lott, of Cumberland township, Adams county.

On Tuesday, by the Rev. Mr. Scheurer, Mr. William Stonesifer, to Miss Patience Shenebrook, both of Germany township.

On the 10th inst., by the Rev. J. Ulrich, Mr. James R. Gardner, to Miss Ruth Van Scoyoc, both of this county.

Army Arrangements: The President has published an Army Order, in which Major General Scott is assigned to the chief command of the Army, as Commander-in-Chief, with headquarters at or near New York. The Union is divided into two military divisions, Eastern and Western, to be under the control of Gen. Gaines and Wool. The headquarters to be Baltimore and Cincinnati—Gen. Gaines, the senior officer, having the right to select between them.

Terrible Conflagration: On Thursday morning (May 17), a fire broke out in the heart of the city of St. Louis, which before it was got under, laid nearly one-half of the city in ruins. Among the property destroyed are five banking houses, all the insurance offices, five extensive printing offices, and twenty-seven steamboats. . . . The flames extended along the levee for three quarters of a mile. Among the buildings destroyed were the most extensive business houses of the city and very little was saved. The loss is estimated at five millions of dollars! The amount of suffering is unprecedented, in addition to which the cholera is carrying off scores of victims!

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Dr. M. L. Bott, graduate of the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, will attend to his professional duties at all hours, in the office of Dr. H. S. Huber, deceased, Gettysburg.

Mr. McDonnell is still at work improving the McClellan Hotel. During the past week, a porch has been put up along the entire western front of the house on Carlisle street.

On Thursday morning, Gen. Sherman, with Col. Audenried and other officers of the army, who had been attending the military re-union at Harrisburg, made a flying trip to Gettysburg, stopping at the Eagle Hotel. The party reached here in the first mixed train, and left on the afternoon train, having in the meantime spent several hours looking over the battlefield. Gen. Sherman and party came unannounced, and but few of our citizens were aware of his visit, until after they had left.

Married: Peeser—Wagaman. At Bonaventure, this county, on the 5th ult., by Rev. Father Pope, Mr. Edward Peeser to Miss Mary Wagaman.

Jordan—Weikert. In Baltimore, on the 14th inst., by Rev. J. W. Lone, Mr. Francis Jordan, of Philadelphia, to Miss Virginia B. Weikert, of Littlestown.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BEAUTY OF EARTH

God's greatest lecture to mankind is His unfolding of the Springtime. George Gissing in his little treasure of a book, "The Private Papers of Henry Rycroft," spoke of his joy at the inception of "another Springtime," and he wondered how many more would be his to love and wonder about.

It is this time of year when the beauty of earth is most manifest. The leafing of the trees, the return of the feathered songsters, the budding and blooming of the endless varieties of flowers—what a festival of miracles! It is no wonder that the naturalists are loved and revered because of their kinship to God's marvelous works. You find no pessimists among them. Their song is universal—"Glory to God in the highest!"

In nature you will note a blending of all beauty. Against a great background of green there are the endless colors of every hue and description. I sat in my library recently and noted a brilliant double rainbow in the eastern sky, merely duplicating the myriad colorings that bathe the beauty of earth.

Every summer I await the appearance of the perfect white pond lily, emerging from the hidden mud in the lagoon before my island cottage in Nova Scotia. And many a time I walk out at midnight to catch the play of moonbeams upon calm waters as they mingle with the sleeping buds of these so welcomed flowers. In deep silence there is written there a poem that no human could compose in adequate metre, or perfection of rhythm.

Then there is the fragrance. How glorious the very smell of earth and the carrying odor of forest, stream, or valley. No wonder that nature is such a perfect cure-all for the aches of the heart and the worry of the mind. How fresh and clean is this earth after a Summer shower, and everything of growth takes upon itself new life, after its drink from the sky!

This earth is the heritage of us all. We may become temporary owners of a little piece of its surface, but its over-all beauty belongs to us all—if we love and appreciate it. As for the blue sky, the clouds, the Sun, Moon, and the stars, each of us is a sole owner!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Unfair"

THE BIG FISH
I have a little fishing hook
Describing rod and line and hook,
And telling when and where to go
And just how large some species grow.

Time was I thought, and used to say:
The biggest fish all get away.
But here's a statement that astounds:
"One swordfish weighed a thousand pounds!"

The bluefin tuna, it is told,
That lives to be a few years old,
Is known, when it is brought to shore,
To scale nine hundred pounds or more.

Though 'twould be thrilling, I've no wish
To hook nine hundred pounds of fish.
Right here I make the statement flat;
I do not ask such luck as that.

I will forego the monster class
If I can land a three-pound bass.
With that contented I can be,
I'll say it's big enough for me.

The Emperor of Russia, accompanied by Grand Duke Alexis, is on a visit to Queen Victoria and her daughter, recently married to Victoria's son, the Duke of Edinburgh. The distinguished visitors were royally received in England. On Thursday night the Queen gave a brilliant state banquet in honor of her guests, attended by the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, and other members of the royal family, with Gladstone, Disraeli, and all the members of the cabinet present. This family alliance between the reigning sovereigns of England and Russia may have an important bearing on future European complications.

STEELWORKERS AWAIT ANSWER

Pittsburgh, May 16 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers today awaited an answer from 835 steel companies to the union's demand for an unspecified wage boost, plus social benefits including pensions.

Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, sent "notification" letters to the companies during the weekend. He expressed a "desire to negotiate."

Under terms of the contracts covering 706,000 workers negotiations must begin within 30 days. If no satisfactory agreement is reached, the union can strike July 16.

Murray's week-end move, though routine following a meeting of the steelworkers' wage-policy committee earlier this month, was the first formal demand for a fourth-round pay boost by one of the CIO's "big three." Similar demands are expected to be made soon by the CIO United Auto Workers and the United Electrical Workers.

Th steelworkers have received three wage boosts since the end of the war. They now receive a basic hourly rate of $1.68. In 1946 they received an 18-cent hourly increase, got 15 cents additional in 1947 and 13 cents more last year.

Murray hasn't indicated the size of the pensions he wants for the men who make steel. He hasn't indicated, either, the pay increase he desires. And, as for the total cost of his demands on industry, the CIO leader's only estimate is that the insurance program he wishes would cost industry 8.4 cents per man, per hour.

COMMON SHADE TREE DISEASES

Beginning with today's article, the editor will present a series of descriptions of shade tree diseases. These are intended to help owners to identify diseases as well as to practice effective prevention and control measures. Succeeding articles will appear once or twice a week. In the meantime readers are invited to write for any further or special information they desire on the subject. Diseases will be discussed according to alphabetical arrangement of trees.

Ailanthus (Tree of Heaven)—Wilt usually attacks younger trees. Leaves turn yellow slowly and fall. Later affected branches die. Symptoms can be distinguished from foliage death caused by drought or starvation by brownish discolorations or streaks in the wood of infected limbs. There is no fungicidal spray or dust to control this disease. Pruning out and burning diseased branches and destruction of entire badly infected trees are perhaps the only safe measures.

Ash—Anthracnose may appear locally, seen as light-brown spots on infected leaves, followed by defoliation. Ash anthracnose is usually more severe after wet weather in spring. Gathering and burning leaves from infected trees in late fall is recommended. Two applications of Bordeaux mixture, one just before buds open and the other soon after leaves unfold, are advised in severe cases of following years when the disease has been destructive.

Leaf scorch of ash is similar in appearance and effects to that of sugar maple and beech trees. It usually appears when dry winds and bright sunshine follow a period of excessively moist weather. Leaves become bronzed, generally in irregular areas, starting at the edges and spreading the discoloration inward toward the midrib. Particular trees may show infection year after year while others remain somewhat immune. In many cases the trouble arises from deficient soil moisture. Feeding with 6-8-6 fertilizer in early May, increasing the organic matter content of the soil, and watering through holes made in the soil will afford relief in most cases.

Aspen—Diseases will later be discussed under "Poplar."

Basswood (Linden)—Anthracnose is a fungous disease, causing irregular light-brown spots along the leaf veins, with many small spots later merging to form large brown blotches. Small cankers may form on fallen leaves and thereby afford the disease over-wintering survival. In wet seasons linden anthracnose may cause early defoliation. Three applications of 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture in early May at weekly to 10-day intervals afford control. Burn all linden foliage from affected trees before winter.

The same recommended Bordeaux preventing anthracnose on this tree also curb linden leaf spot, a disease seen as small circular spots with dark borders.

Linden black mold, similar to a condition seen occasionally on Norway maples, yellow poplar, white pine and many other trees, is actually a fungus growth that accumulates in the honeydew which aphids (plant lice) secrete on the foliage. Complete control of these insects will solve the black mold problem. Nicotine sulfate in soapy water as a spray is recommended in all cases where aphids infest this and other shade trees.

Beech—Leaf scorch, as discussed under Ash, is the only trouble growers of this tree report. The ash is an excellent shade tree in certain suitable roles. But it demands a deeply mellow soil with plenty of organic matter to hold moisture. This is seen in the fact that many beautiful native specimens are found growing along small streams and near springs.

Basket Flower Has Showy July Blooms

The most conspicuous as well as the most showy of the annual centaurea is the species Americana. Its popular name is basket flower, a reference to the large round flower buds which have a resemblance to Indian baskets.

Its home is the Missouri plains and to the South and Southwest. The cultivated form is an improvement over the wild type, with magnificent thistlelike flowers measuring from four to five inches across. Although dense, they are graceful, with slender lacinated ray petals forming a thick crown around the shorter center flowers which are accentuated by glossy black styles supporting small fluffy ball-like anthers. The color of the flowers is a delightful shade of lilac or rosy purple.

Despite the thistlelike appearance of the flowers, there are no spines on any part of the plant. In this section seed is best started where the plants are to bloom. Sow after danger of severe frost is past in spring. Let them have a good rich soil, full sun and good drainage to develop into well branched plants almost three feet tall, bearing a wealth of flowers during July and August.

Chlorane And DDT Check Beetle Grubs

Japanese beetle grubs damage a lawn by cutting the grass roots at a depth of one to two inches below the surface. The turf can be rolled like a rug when severe damage is inflicted. If more than five grubs are found to the square foot, better get busy with the insecticide. Chlorane and DDT effectively control Jap beetle grubs.

Six pounds of a 10 per cent DDT dust or 1 1/4 pounds of a 50 per cent DDT powder should be used for each 1,000 square feet of lawn. The DDT powder can be mixed with fertilizer or soil as a help in getting uniform distribution. DDT will remain effective in the soil at least four of five years.

Chlorane, newer than DDT, gives quicker kill of the grubs, but sufficient time has not elapsed to determine its duration of control. An area of 1,000 square feet should be treated at the rate of five pounds of 5 per cent dust or one-half pound of 50 per cent Chlorane in twenty-five gallons of water.

A combination of one-fifth the recommended rate of Chlorane, plus the DDT treatment will give both quick and lasting control of the Japanese beetle grub.

New Sweet Corn Culture May Double Garden Yield

Amateur gardeners of experimental bent may double the yield on a small sweet corn patch by planting twice as many plants as usual, and using 24D to kill the weeds, instead of cultivating.

Best for the purpose is a heavy soil, well fertilized. At least 4 pounds should be spaded into every 100 square feet, even if the soil is fertile to begin with. Sow three or four seeds to a foot in drills a foot apart, thinning out to six inches for early varieties, and one foot apart for tall, late kinds.

The U. S. department of agriculture advises that the pre-emergent spray of 24D may be applied at any time from the third day after sowing, until three days after the corn seedlings emerge. Use 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of 24D acid equivalent (the man at the store will understand) per acre. This spray will control weeds for four weeks, after which the corn plants should be tall enough to shade the ground, and keep down competition.

Best results are obtained when the temperature is high enough and the soil moisture sufficient to cause prompt germination of both weed and corn seed. In sandy, porous soil, or if it rains hard after spraying a heavy soil, the chemical may be carried down to the corn seed and injure it as well as the weeds.

If the corn borer is active in your vicinity, when the plants are knee high dust them with five per cent D. D. T. Repeat in 10 days, as a minimum protection. It is better to dust four times, five days apart. Seed should be sown as soon as danger of frost is over.

A sowing should be made in four short rows rather than in a single long row. This insures that when the pollen is ripe, a cross wind will carry it to the silk in the young ears of an adjoining row, rather than wasting it on the ground, as might be the case in a single row. Each silk must be fertilized by pollen, in order to produce a kernel, and many failures with corn are traceable to poor pollination.

Deep cultivation of corn must be avoided because the plants have shallow roots; but all weeds should be kept down until the plants are half grown. Side shoots and suckers need not be removed.

Sports Roundup

By RUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, May 16 (AP)—Bill Connelly, Villanova athletic director, says he isn't boasting when he figures the eastern football championship likely will be settled when Villanova meets Penn State in the second game of the season. . . . And Jim Leonard, the New Jersey asparagus farmer who has taken over the coaching job, backs him up. . . . Leonard is especially high on Fullback Ralph Pasquariello, who'll have quite a duel with Penn State's Fran Rogel in that contest. . . . "When Pasquariello is at his best, he could be the No. 1 fullback on any college team," Jim insists. "I'll go even further. He could be the best on all but one or two of the professional teams." . . . Big Jim has just one regret over his farming-football combination. "If that asparagus crop only matured in July or August, I'd really have that team in condition," he says. "You do nothing but bend over and straighten up all day when you harvest it."

TAKE TWO AND HIT TO RIGHT

Bill Lane, Bucknell baseball coach, had just finished going over the day's signals with his squad before a game. . . . He sat down on the bench, which wasn't where he thought it was, and did a perfect back flip into the dirt. . . . Dusting himself off after he had hauled himself up again, Bill told the chuckling athletes: "That's a fadeaway, the new signal for a bunt. The sign is hardly noticeable at all."

Bullet Golfers 5th In Invitation Meet

The Gettysburg college golf team finished fifth in the 11-team Western Maryland college invitation golf tournament at Westminster Saturday. Juniata won the title with a score of 594.

Other team scores were as follows: Lehigh, 595; Loyola, 600; Johns Hopkins, 605; Gettysburg, 609; Western Maryland, 614; Mt. St. Mary's, 622; American university, 648; Washington college, 650; Baltimore university, 657, and Dickinson, 688.

Dick Dodds of the Bullets had the lowest score for 18 holes, a 67, and finished in a tie with Drummitt, Lehigh, for second place, at 143. Cronin, Loyola, was the medalist with 141. Other Bullet scores were: Mill Plantz, 74-77-151; Walt Plantz, 83-72-155; Yocum, 80-80-160.

Warrior Trackmen To Meet Hanover

Gettysburg high school's track team will bring its season to a close by meeting Hanover in a dual meet here Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Hanover took second place in the South Penn conference meeting, losing out the Warriors by three-fourths of a point. Tuesday's meet is expected to be close throughout. The Nighthawks ruling as a slight favorite.

editor recently inquired if 25 straight victories was any sort of semi-pro record, National Baseball Congress statisticians informed him that the 1935 Bismarck, N. D. team won 105 games and lost only one. . . . Harrison Hoyt, who won the 1948 Hambletonian with Demon Hanover and will try again with Elaine Stirling, may find one of his strongest rivals is Spencer Mite, which he sold to Jimmy Cruise. . . . If Spencer wins, Harrison can complain: "That Hoyt."

STUDIES SHOW STROEHMANN'S LEADING SOURCE OF ENERGY

Stroehmann's Sandwiches Tops For School Lunch Box

Youngsters, teachers and mothers all agree that sandwiches made with wholesome, delicious "Bread At Its Best" win top honors. School children, from kindergarten through high school, find that a sandwich lunch made with our delicious bread is the lunch that's best.

Sandwiches made with our bread provide the extra nutrition that children of school age need. And how the boys and girls love its oven-rich flavor! Nothing ever tastes quite so good!

Freshness Lasts

The best part is that the extra-good flavor of our bread lasts until lunchtime. Even after hours in the lunchbox, sandwiches made with "Bread At Its Best" are still fresh and delicious. Our bread's baked-in freshness lingers until the last bite.

You'll find "Bread At Its Best" the perfect complement to other foods. Our bread brings out the flavor of sandwich spreads and sandwich meats as nothing else does.

Our bread always gets good marks in the monthly "Best Bread" tests at the Q.B.A. Bakery Laboratory, too. Pack sandwiches made from delicious "Bread At Its Best" in your children's lunchbox today. Let them compare and see if they don't agree that our bread makes the best sandwiches they've ever tasted!

ACTIVE YOUNGSTERS NEED PLENTY OF HIGH-ENERGY STROEHMANN'S

Should Get 1/4 to 1/3 of Daily Energy Requirements At Breakfast

Scientists confirm what mothers have always known. Growing boys and girls use up more energy each day than their parents. Only a fully grown man doing heavy manual labor expends more energy than a growing boy. Children have a genuine need for "Bread At Its Best."

Be sure those schoolboys and schoolgirls get enough of our energy-rich bread all through the day. The results of insufficient intake of energy units are loss of weight, lack of pep, and a general impairment of bodily health.

Children Need Pep

The energy requirements of men and women vary with weight and mode of life; but all healthy children lead active lives. At meal-times, see that your children eat nutritious foods such as our delicious bread.

According to expert nutritionists, it is especially important that youngsters have a substantial breakfast. Plenty of enriched "Bread At Its Best" takes them through that stretch of four and a half to five hours until lunch. A child's breakfast should supply him with one quarter to one third of his daily food requirement. Make it a "Bread At Its Best" breakfast to assure your child all the energy he needs for his active morning hours.

Great with Other Foods

When children eat our bread at breakfast, they are more likely to eat a well-balanced breakfast. They won't neglect the other foods their growing bodies require, because our bread goes so well with butter, bacon, eggs, jam and jelly. Your favorite bread makes other foods taste better, too.

Afternoons, when school is out, children face their most strenuous hours. Give them our bread with jam or peanut butter, to keep pace with the rapid loss of energy during play—roller skating, ball playing or other strenuous past-times.

Help keep your youngsters healthy and full of pep. Serve them our bread every day!

Head for health with Stroehmann's!

One Stroehmann's honey sandwich gives you 130 more energy units than 1 1/2 cups stewed tomatoes... costs 12¢ less!

Stroehmann's

SUPPLIES MORE ENERGY PER FOOD DOLLAR THAN MOST COMMON FOODS

"Bread At Its Best" is one of today's best and most convenient energy foods. According to studies among leading professional nutritionists, enriched bread is a basic part of the modern diet. Your favorite bread provides vital minerals, vitamins, and carbohydrates needed by the body every day to keep it healthy and strong. Continuing market research reveals that our bread is among the least expensive and most nutritious foods in the grocery store. Remember, "Bread At Its Best" contains every essential food element!

The average food dollar, so strained these days, goes further with our bread. Penny for penny, and pound for pound, our bread ranks ahead of most other common foods. And few other foods which are equal in energy content are so delicious to eat, and so easy to serve. Whether in bread-box recipes, or for a quick snack, "Bread At Its Best" is your best bet for energy and economy.

The strict standards set for themselves by the bakers of our bread are maintained by ceaseless vigilance. Hundreds of tests and checks during the baking process help to guarantee that our bread will always be "Bread At Its Best."

Our bread is all food; there is absolutely no waste. No bones, no peelings! And every nutritional element in "Bread At Its Best" is present in a form readily assimilated by the body. This means quick energy, with the least strain on the digestive system.

Compare

our bread yourself today and see if you don't agree it's tops for flavor and energy!

DOCTORS SAY PACE OF MODERN LIVING DEMANDS FOOD HIGH IN ENERGY CONTENT

2,500 Energy Units Per Day For Women
3,000 For Men, Laborers' Requirements Greater

Modern men and women find that the quickened pace of today's living makes tremendous demands on their energy. Constant hurry increases the drain on the body's store of energy. Doctors tell us that the average man requires 3000 energy units each day, and the average woman requires 2500 to maintain a sufficient supply of energy.

People today work shorter hours than their grandfathers and grandmothers did; but they work at a much faster rate. Not often these days do we find the leisurely pace of the old-time hand craftsman working at his loom or carpenter's bench.

The playtime of the modern citizen is also carried on at an accelerated clip. The greater number of social activities and entertainments available to the man of today may help broaden his outlook, but they also keep him on his toes.

That's why folks nowadays have a tremendous need for nutritious, energy-producing foods like "Bread At Its Best."

For a quick pick-me-up, try "Bread At Its Best" today!

QUICK STROEHMANN'S SNACK STEPS UP VITALITY

At any time of day, you're sure to enjoy a nutritious breadbox snack. For a quick pick-me-up when your energy is flagging, try a piece of "Bread At Its Best", spread with butter and strawberry jam, cream cheese and chopped olives or minced ham. And for an old-fashioned favorite, you'll find toasted bread cubes in cold or warm milk delicious at bedtime. Here's a bedtime snack that's nourishing yet wonderfully light and easy to digest!

Keep a variety of jams and Jellies on hand, for easy-to-prepare tidbits made with our delicious bread. Make minced spreads of your left-over meats for a tasty inexpensive treat.

Be sure your bread is fine-textured "Bread At Its Best". No holes for jelly, jam, or honey to drip through! So smooth that even cold, refrigerated butter spreads more quickly and easily!

singing of "America," "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." Rev. Harry R. Lee, prelate of Gettysburg Commandery, led the Apostles' Creed and Lord's prayer with the Knights holding their swords raised during the Apostles' Creed and standing at order swords with heads uncovered for the Lord's prayer.

W. Preston Hull, of the local commandery, introduced Maurice A. Hammer, Greensburg, grand commander of the Pennsylvania commandery of the Knights and other officials of the grand commandery and division commanders.

Revive Early Custom

"Today we return to a custom of the early Christians," the Rev. Mr. Dunkelberger told the group. "During the early years the Christians went to the hills, usually to their cemeteries to celebrate the feast of Christ triumphant, the feast of the ascension. Thus our service today is in that spirit."

The speaker declared that "the 'isms' outside the nation are not so dangerous as the 'isms' within ourselves. Only as we yield to secularism, only as we allow our faith to be watered down do we need to fear the 'isms' among us."

"There is danger that Christians may become ritualists instead of realists. Our country a few weeks ago was disturbed because an animal was living after its head had been cut off. Yet we are not apparently disturbed that there are many humans, living today, who have actually chosen to live with their spiritual heads cut off. They are willing to accept the ethics and social principles of Jesus, but they will not accept Him as their spiritual head and leader."

"There are many who are interested in bringing Christianity to the Zulus, but at the same time permitting zoning in our own cities to discriminate against fellow Christians."

and refreshment stands, conducted by various Franklin county church groups.

A 30-foot silo is being constructed with about half of the silo completed last week to avoid hazards of accidents at the ground level when the rejuvenation program opened today. Bulldozers removed hedge rows to prepare for the tractor mounted post hole diggers which will dig holes for two miles of fence. The foundation for a new milk house was set for the wall construction today.

Paint House, Barn

The Letterkenny ordinance depot graded 30 acres of space to provide parking free of charge after Eyer's neighbors set up plans to charge 50 cents per car for those parking on their fields.

As the demonstration opened this morning 26 tractors and 7 bulldozers were tearing up the earth in preparation for the planting of 60 acres of crop land and 50 acres of permanent pasture. Forty acres of woodland will be revitalized by new seedlings and by selective cutting, supervised by the United States Forest Service. The 8 projects under way are being supervised by Veteran on-the-farm training instructors and farmer fieldmen for the Production and Marketing Administration.

In addition to the 14 Agricultural conservation practices being carried out on this farm, several rehabilitation projects are under-way to improve the economic outlook of the farm operation. A new milk house and a new stable arrangement will qualify Eyer for a more profitable milk market through a better sanitary standard required by Philadelphia distributors. A new silo will help produce milk at a lower cost figure; while a new well and a farm pond will supply water in abundance for his livestock.

Two new coats of paint on house and barn and new siding on one side of the barn will bring the "new look" to the Eyer farmstead.

Hanover took over undisputed possession of first place in the Adams County Baseball league by defeating the Conewago VFW team 1-0 in 12 innings Saturday at Ardentville. The game was protested by Conewago due to a Hanover player catching a fly in his bare hands after he had discarded his glove.

Gettysburg copped its third straight victory by walloping Bendersville 11-3, a six-run barrage in the final inning giving Bud Knox his third straight decision.

New Oxford handed Littlestown its first setback by winning 7-2; Orrtanna encountered little trouble in disposing of York Springs 8-3, while Fairfield outslugged Emmitsburg 11-10.

Wonderful New Comfort

The Beautiful Chrysler | Silver Anniversary Model

New Yorker 4-door sedan with PRESTOMATIC FLUID DRIVE* TRANSMISSION—drive without shifting

New Wider Chair-Height Seats! We don't fold you up like a "jackknife." You sit comfortably in seats the height of your easy chairs at home. We've more headroom, legroom, and shoulder room for you. And no other car has ever been so completely engineered from the fundamentals up for your comfort, your convenience, your peace of mind. You don't even have to press a starter button. Turn the ignition key and the engine purrs.

New Easier Steering! In one of the great advances since the war, we give you new "center control" steering. For the first time, tie rods of equal length give you balanced control. There's no wheel fight. There's greater road stability, easier handling, less road shock. Yes, and greater safety, too—for everything about this car is designed for safer driving. The new instrument cluster, in your line of vision on the steering wheel, reduces driving strain.

New Smoother Driving! Chrysler's mighty Spitfire engine now has still higher compression for faster acceleration, smoother response. And along with its better all-around performance goes an amazing new Waterproof Ignition System that's exclusive with Chrysler. You can drive through high water or play a hose on the engine but it won't stall. You get quicker starting, even in dampest weather, smoother idling, longer life. To really appreciate this fine car ask for a demonstration today!
